

An Important Message from Deltec Support

Topic: Potential New Ransomware Attack

Do not open "Shiva.exe"

New attack: "Resurrection Ransomware"

New Ransomware Attack

A new ransomware attack is underway called "Resurrection Ransomware" that will appear as a .pdf attachment called "Shiva.exe."

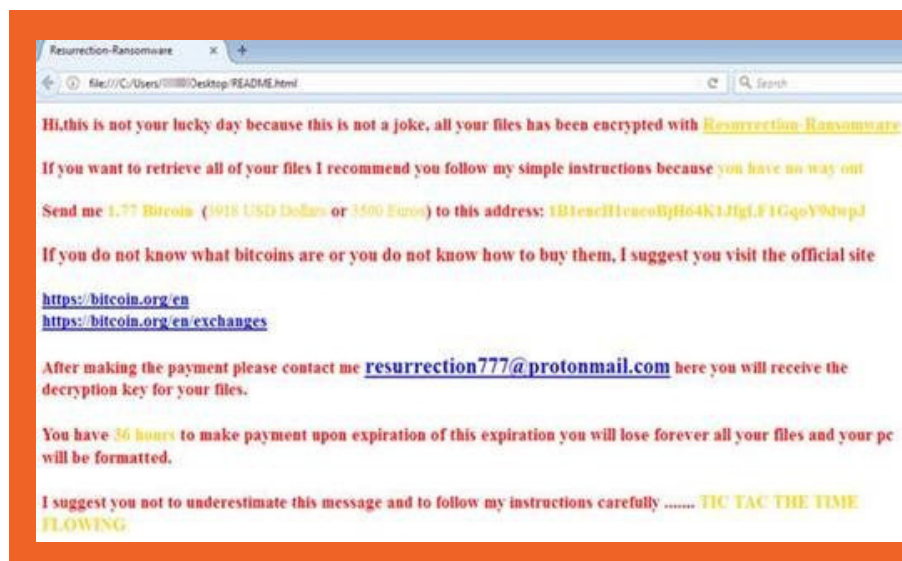

The .pdf icon looks like this:

Do not open or click on a link that appears like the above or is named like the above. If you do, or at any time you hear music (listen to attached file) or see the screen message below, IMMEDIATELY TURN OFF YOUR COMPUTER. Then notify your internal IT and contact Deltec Solutions support.

Once a user opens this file (clicks on the icon) this file will begin to encrypt files on your local hard drive and may also encrypt mapped network drives.

A message like the one on the right is displayed and music plays.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Deltec Support immediately.